

GUIDELINES FOR CONSULTANTS

in the Dr. Rath Health Alliance

Valid from 1st June 2018

1. Your work at the local level for a new health care system

The main task of the Dr. Rath Health Alliance is the dissemination of knowledge about the importance of micronutrients for our health. This health information is based on scientific findings that have been acquired at the Dr. Rath Research Institute for Cellular Medicine and other scientific research centers. The scientific substantiation of the findings provided as part of our information work is the foundation of our Health Alliance. The long-term objective of our work is the construction of a prevention-oriented health care system and the integration of this knowledge in medical practices and hospitals, for the benefit of millions of patients. In so doing, we make an important contribution to the construction of efficient and affordable health care worldwide.

The new health care system is created at the local level, in particular through your personal credibility. It grows through the dissemination of vital health information, and is based on your personal relationship of trust with your neighbors, colleagues and friends. With regard to your local work, this means you should:

- Use our materials and information in talks with your friends and family, in your neighborhood or district, i.e. in places where you live and work.
- Try to stay in touch with the people you reach in your area, to be available for their queries, and to inform them further, if necessary. In so doing, contact with a group of members of our Health Alliance at your place of residence may be helpful. If there is no such group, you could help by establishing one.
- Become a consultant in the Dr. Rath Health Alliance.

2. How do I become a consultant?

To become a consultant, you must use the Dr. Rath Cellular Nutrient Program, recruit at least one new customer to the Dr. Rath Cellular Nutrient Program, and accept these guidelines in the context of the application for admission. In addition, we expect you to be familiar with the products of the Dr. Rath Cellular Nutrient Program and their mode of action. Numerous informational and educational materials will help you to develop a basic understanding of cellular medicine, for instance: the Cellular Medicine Foundation and Advanced Course, as well as online information: <http://www.rath.co.uk/>.

A new customer in this sense is anyone who buys Cellular Nutrient products from us for the first time. The order must have a value of at least €80.00.

Every consultant starts as a "basic consultant". If you win five new customers with an order value of at least €80.00 each, you reach the level of "advanced consultant".

Members who were already consultants as of 1st May 2018 (hereinafter referred to as „existing consultants“) are excluded from this condition. As of 1st June 2018, existing consultants who take the Basic Course will be classified as basic consultants, while existing consultants who take the Advanced Course will be classified as advanced consultants. Existing consultants who are already classified as basic consultants as of 1st June 2018 will reach the level of advanced consultant provided they win five new customers with an order value of at least €80.00 after 1st June 2018.

As a new consultant, you will be assigned to an experienced consultant designated by you. This consultant has motivated you to work in the Dr. Rath Health Alliance and demonstrated to you the advantages of working as a consultant.

3. What are the advantages of working as a consultant in the Dr. Rath Health Alliance?

Whatever your consultant status, you will receive an instant discount of 10% on your own orders. This discount is valid in addition to the 10% quantity discount on orders with a value of €1,000.00 or more. The instant discount is also valid in addition to the social discount of 10% that will be granted on orders from unemployed customers, pensioners and students with an income of €950 or less a month. In order to use the social discount, a recent proof of eligibility must be provided every 12 months without further request. When claiming a quantity discount, no social discount will be granted.

The instant discount (this does not include the quantity discount and social discount) may not be combined with special offers.

Furthermore, you will receive honorariums, calculated on the basis of the sales of the customers you have recruited and the consultants you supervise (level 1), including the following levels 2 and 3, see below, no. 4 a) and b). You will also receive honorariums on the sales made by the therapists and physicians whom you recruit and who are part of our HPCM program, see below, no. 4 c).

HPCM stands for "Health Professionals for Cellular Medicine". The Program invites health professionals to educate patients about the scientific findings of cellular medicine and to work with the Dr. Rath Cellular Nutrient Program.

4. How am I remunerated as a consultant?

a) Remuneration as a Basic Consultant

- You receive a 10% honorarium on the orders of customers directly assigned to you, i.e. users to whom you have introduced the benefits of cellular nutrients.
- You receive a 20% honorarium on the orders taken by consultants who are directly supervised by you (level 1).
- You receive a 10% honorarium on the orders taken by consultants who are directly assigned to the consultants from your level 1 (= level 2).
- You receive a 5% honorarium on the orders taken by consultants who are directly assigned to the consultants from your level 2 (= level 3).

b) Remuneration as an Advanced Consultant

As an advanced consultant, in addition to the honorariums for a basic consultant, you are entitled to the following honorarium after acquiring five new customers:

- You receive a 5% honorarium on orders taken by consultants who are directly assigned to the consultants from your level 3.

c) Remuneration for sales under the HPCM program

Both for basic consultants and for advanced consultants the following applies:

- You will receive a 5% honorarium on the orders taken by healthcare professionals who are directly assigned to you and are participating in our HPCM program.

d) Basis of Calculation

The honorariums are calculated on the basis of the respective net order values after deduction of granted discounts. Consultants shall only be entitled to honorariums if the invoice relating to the order has been fully paid. All Cellular Nutrient products by Dr. Rath Health Programs B.V. shall be taken into the calculation of the honorarium except where an individual product is explicitly excluded.

e) Monthly Income Opportunity

Activities within the Dr. Rath Health Alliance allow you to receive a total of up to €10,000.00 per month. Any amount exceeding this value will be used for further research in the field of cellular medicine and for the continuation of our educational and information activities (hereinafter referred to as "Research/Education") in the interest of the entire Health Alliance. These amounts will therefore not be paid to you.

f) Payment of the Honorarium

Your honorarium will be calculated on a monthly basis. The amount will be transferred to your account by the end of the third month, provided it exceeds €50.00. If the honorarium does not reach the payment threshold of €50.00 within a period of two years, the claim for honorariums saved up to this point will expire and the money will be used for Research/Education.

g) Activity Protection Measure

The basic requirement for the opportunity to earn money as a consultant is that you are a regular user of the Dr. Rath Cellular Nutrient Program. In order to maintain your entitlement to honorariums, you must once a month purchase products with a value equivalent to the basic formula Vitacor Plus™. This minimum amount is the gross order value, i.e. before deduction of any discounts.

Please note that the Activity Protection Measure also applies if a bulk or collective order or an order of several products is placed. The value of such an order will not be credited against the following months. The minimum order value must be reached by monthly orders. An exemption applies only to subscription orders: For a bimonthly delivery under a subscription, the minimum order value for fulfilling the Activity Protection Measure is the value of two Vitacor Plus™ basic formulas.

If no minimum order is placed in one month as described above, the honorarium will not be paid for that month. The honorarium not paid will expire and will be used for Research/Education.

If no products from the Dr. Rath Cellular Nutrients Program are ordered over a period of six consecutive months, we assume that the consultant is permanently inactive. At the end of this period, any acquired advantages, notably the entitlement to instant discounts and honorariums, are forfeited.

Exceptions can be made only upon a written request, and personal circumstances will be considered on an individual basis.

h) Currency

All settlements are made in euros.

i) Exception: Delay/Right to off-set

If a consultant is in default of payment for personal orders over a period of more than 14 days after the first reminder, we reserve the right to use the claim for honorarium to settle the outstanding invoice amount.

5. How can I change my superordinate consultant?

The personal relationship of trust between the consultants of our Health Alliance and the people you introduce to our Health Alliance is a cornerstone of the information and consultancy work. Therefore, consultants have the opportunity to be assigned under another consultant (change of consultancy) upon written application. This application will be approved if the written consent of the preferred consultant and the previous consultant is given.

In exceptional circumstances, a change of consultancy is also permissible

- a) if a consultant, by his/her own fault, is unable to continue to fulfil his/her role as a contact person towards a subordinate consultant,
- b) if, in the case of a succession arrangement (No. 6, below), a member wishes to replace the consultant he/she is directly assigned to (= successor) within the first 12 months after the effective date of the succession,
- c) if there are other reasons justifying a change of consultancy.

The Dr. Rath Health Programs B.V. will decide on the application for change of consultancy.

6. Can I pass on my consultancy to a successor?

All consultants have the opportunity to appoint a successor during their lifetime.

For a succession arrangement, the person arranging the succession must submit a written application.

The current position within the consultancy network can be transferred to a family member or life partner, provided that he/she meets the necessary conditions of the relevant consultant status (acquiring at least one new customer). Furthermore, providing evidence of having worked together as consultants for the Dr. Rath Health Alliance over a period of at least 12 months is a prerequisite for the transfer. This evidence must be provided by the person arranging the succession and the successor. In addition, the successor, using a form provided to him/her, must declare that he/she intends to continue the consultancy work within our Health Alliance and, on the occasion of succession, abandon his/her previous position in the downline, if available, in favor of Research/Education.

If a request for succession is approved on our part, we reserve the right to check up on the continuation of the consultancy work in the Health Alliance by the successor and, if necessary, to revoke the already granted approval of succession. This applies regardless of the possibility of changing the consultant, as detailed by No. 5 above. Such revocation is possible only within the first 12 months after the approval.

7. When does my consultancy end?

Your consultancy relationship with the Dr. Rath Health Programs B.V. will be entered for an indefinite period. In general, the legal relationship underlying your consulting activity can be terminated at any time, either by you or by the Dr. Rath Health Programs B.V., with a notice period of 30 days from the end of the month.

The legal relationship underlying your consulting activity can be terminated without notice if one party behaves contrary to the terms of the contract to an extreme degree. This may be the case if you, for instance, disregard the guidelines of the Dr. Rath Health Alliance, market other companies' products, or make false claims about your minimum orders for the purpose of increasing your commission. Neither can we tolerate questionable attempts to persuade prospective customers or users to make a high number of orders, or dubious dealings to find as many new users as possible. Furthermore, termination without notice may be declared if damage is caused to the good reputation of Dr. Rath or the products of the Dr. Rath Cellular Nutrient Program.

A consultant's membership of the Dr. Rath Health Alliance ends upon his/her death, as does the payment of his/her honorarium. An official documentation about the consultant's death or, in case of doubt, a copy of the death certificate should be sent to us. If we were not informed about the death of a consultant, we would have to ask for any payments that were made after the death, to be returned by the person receiving these payments, to which he/she is not entitled.

8. Where and how may I promote the products of the Dr. Rath Cellular Nutrient Program and acquire new customers?

You are an independent entrepreneur. Therefore, you can basically decide for yourself how to win new customers. However, you should note that advertising supplements or health-promoting products is subject to legal regulations that restrict the claims you can make for such products. In this context, you may have heard of the EU Nutrition and Health Claims Regulation, or the Food and Feed Code. You are responsible for acting in a manner conforming to the law.

When working as a consultant, you may call yourself "consultant in the Dr. Rath Health Alliance". However, please note the following:

The information and consultancy within the framework of the Dr. Rath Health Alliance is directed towards the supportive effect of the products at the cellular level, as described, for instance, in brochures on the Dr. Rath Cellular Nutrient Program or on our websites.
